

LOVERS AND ENEMIES

Time spent drawing, time spent with friends, looking at friends, at family, at lovers, at heroes, remembering faces that you think you know so well but finding something new that excites you and pushes you forward to find out more. That which gives more depth, an insight into that person.

Drawing is a great tool for discovery. Not only of the internal life of the sitter, that allows you to see so much, but equally tells you so much about the artist too.
